

Wolf (Circle #2)

Jessie Growden

1m 1s

2016

A self-portrait exploring an important place and the way a camera can see a unique viewpoint of a space. The Wolfcleuch waterfall is a space I've visited all my life, and my parents and grandparents visited before that. It is fresh and constantly renewing, and ancient at the same time, with an unrecorded history of all the moments that happened there.

Jessie Growden started making films in 2014 and is a founding member of the Moving Image Makers Collective. Her videos explore place, landscape and personal experiences through a playful approach to recording images. Her work focusses on the detail, the sentimental and the throwaway, and the history and lives of objects and places.

<https://vimeo.com/173486588>

